Start with stories that are short and straightforward, avoiding those with complex plotlines or advanced language. As confidence grows, gradually increase difficulty.

Select stories that interest you personally—whether it's family, adventure, animals, or daily life. Engaged readers are more likely to persist and enjoy the learning process.

1. Format and Accessibility

Look for stories available in easy-to-read formats, such as illustrated stories, audiobooks, or bilingual editions. These formats support different learning styles.
