The Evolution of Strategic Leadership Theory

Historical Foundations

Strategic leadership as a distinct domain emerged in the late 20th century, rooted in the broader fields of leadership studies and strategic management. Early research predominantly focused on the influence of CEOs and top executives on organizational outcomes, emphasizing traits, behaviors, and decision-making processes. Pioneering scholars like David (1974) and Hambrick & Mason (1984) laid foundational work by exploring how individual characteristics and environmental factors shape strategic choices.

Transition to a Multilevel Perspective

Over time, the field recognized that strategic leadership is not solely about individual traits but also encompasses group dynamics within TMTs and governance mechanisms involving boards. This shift led to the development of multilevel models that integrate individual, team, and organizational levels, acknowledging that strategic leadership is a complex, distributed process.

Contemporary Trends

Today, research emphasizes dynamic capabilities, transformational leadership, distributed leadership, and collective cognition within TMTs and boards. The rise of corporate governance frameworks and stakeholder theory further broadens the scope, integrating external and internal stakeholder influences into strategic leadership paradigms.

Core Concepts in Strategic Leadership

Definitions and Scope
